August 26, 1985

Dear

The Antigonish Women's Resource Centre will officially re-open on Friday, September 6, 1985. An Open House has been planned for the occasion, the hours of the Open House will be 9:00-4:00. Prior to the open house, a special lecture will be given at 7:00, Thursday, September 5, at the John Paul Centre, Main St., Antigonish. Angela Miles, Dept. of Sociology, at St. Francis Xavier University will be the guest speaker, the lecture will be entitled Women and Feminism.

On behalf of the Antigonish Women's Resource Centre, I would like to extend an invitation to you, to attend both the lecture and the Open House. The Open House will be informal and we are encouraging people to drop in, chat, browse through the resources and enjoy some refreshments. For those of you who are unable to attend the lecture, copies of the talk will be available at the Centre during the Open House.

Your presence would be appreciated; nevertheless, busy schedules often prevent people from attending. Should that be the case, I encourage you to visit the Women's Resource Centre at a future date when it is convenient for you.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

sincerely,

Star LeVatte-O'Neill
Co-Ordinator, Women's Resource Centre.
