'TRIPPIN' TREASURE TRUNK'

This Friday, August 21, ACT (Adolescents Coming Together) for Change is holding a "Trippin' Treasure Trunk" Second Hand Clothing Sale and Fashion Show at the Legion on Main Street.

Organizers of the event, Mary Beth Carty (left), Chelsea MacDonald and Tanya Joe (pictured here) promise that there will be plenty of good quality clothing at affordable prices: men's, women's, children's, and some "trippin'," funky clothing.

The sale starts at 11 a.m., and will run until 7 p.m.. There will be a fashion show, featuring local youths, modeling clothes at 2 p.m. A minimum donation of 25 cents is requested at the door.

At 6 p.m. "The Dylan Quinn Tet," a newly formed local jazz band will be entertaining. The first edition of Raucous, a youth voice magazine, will also be sold. The magazine is available at Needs or Brendan's Fairway. Anyone interested in helping with this publication is invited to come to a meeting Tuesdays, 7 p.m. at Suite 204, Kirk Place.

On Friday, August 28, a concert at the Gazebo, featuring local youth musical talent, will take place from 7 to 9:30 p.m. More information concerning this show will be published next week, and is available by calling 863-6221.
