

FIRST WAVE FEMINISM

*The Carleton
March 12/14*

StFX faculty members Nancy Forestell (left) and Maureen Moynagh speak during the launch of Documenting First Wave Feminisms, a two-volume anthology of primary source documents they edited. The documents explore the many ways in which first-wave feminism was understood, negotiated and organized by a variety of people. The launch took place on International Women's Day (March 8) at the Peoples' Place Library in Antigonish. PHOTO: Corey LeBlanc
